

Paul Note

Paul Note has been the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Geistlich Pharma AG since 2006. He has comprehensive management expertise which he acquired at various globally active industrial companies. Before moving to Geistlich Pharma AG, Paul Note spent seven years at the international tyre manufacturer Michelin as a Business Unit & Business Development Manager.

He began his career as a controller at Sandoz in Berne and Portugal. He then took up a position as a management consultant at Hayek Engineering, where he also advised Geistlich Söhne AG, among others. Other stages in his professional career were the milk specialities group Bongrain International and the building materials group Holcim.

Paul Note studied mathematics, is an economist and holds a degree in business administration from the renowned HEC management school in Paris. Paul Note grew up in Paris and today lives in Switzerland with his family.