

Rolf Jeger

Rolf Jeger was appointed Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and a member of the Board of Management of Geistlich Pharma AG in February 2009. In his position at Board level, he is responsible for the management of the Finance division of Geistlich Pharma AG and its affiliates.

Before he joined the Geistlich Pharma Group, Mr Jeger held senior financial and management positions at several companies, including 6 years as the CFO of the stock-exchange-listed technology company Amazys Holding AG and 5 years as the CFO at the global market leader in security technology Siemens Building Technologies (Cerberus division).

He began his professional career in 1980 at the headquarters of the Swiss Bank Corporation in Basel, where he worked as a management consultant for 6 years in the field of Mergers & Acquisitions and special financing. Mr Jeger laid the foundation for his professional career during his studies and Master's degree majoring in the field of corporate financing and in his MBA from INSEAD in Fontainebleau, France.